

WATERFRONT NEWS

TRANSPORT THOMAS IS IN A HURRY

The transport Thomas came up to number three naval wharf about nine o'clock last night, and almost before the gangway was lowered, the announcement was made that she had a big haul on to make up her lost time and must leave at nine o'clock this morning.

From the time that the Thomas was scheduled to leave Manila, the transport has met with bad weather on the voyage. Admiral Sebree came aboard in Manila harbor to bid his brother's wife good-bye and see her off, and before he left the vessel a typhoon sprang up and he was forced to remain aboard till the next day.

The typhoon delayed the transport about twenty-four hours and she was more than this behind her time in reaching Nagasaki. Since leaving Japan she has met with all kinds of bad weather. Two hundred and eighty knots a day was considered good showing, and all those on board hoped for something better each day, but the thermometer of their hopes dropped to zero when they were forced to slow down and one day's run was posted at little more than 200.

The Thomas has little freight to unload for this port and only three passengers. There are some nine tons of freight to be taken on and a few passengers to go from here to the Coast on her.

It was strongly denied on board the Thomas that there was anything wrong with the wireless system. It was stated by the quartermaster captain's clerk that they had been trying to get Kahuku for several days without success.

Wireless From Lurline.

Kahuku received a wireless from the Lurline last night at half-past nine, stating that she was 1150 miles out and had been delayed by head winds and a heavy sea. She expects to arrive late on Friday evening.

Generator Burned Out.

The reason that Kahuku was unable to communicate with the Chiyo Maru during the last two days is explained. The motor-generator which provides the "juice" for the wireless plant aboard the vessel burned out, and so the plant was practically out of commission.

Departed on the Chiyo Maru.

Among those departing on the Chiyo Maru for the Orient last evening was Mrs. W. H. Avery, wife of the general manager of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha line, who arrived here from Yokohama on the Mongolia. Mr. Avery arrived yesterday from San Francisco on the Chiyo, and then her plans were changed, for she decided to return to Japan to spend the Christmas holidays with Mr. Avery. The French consul, M. Menant, who has been transferred to Amsterdam, also departed, accompanied by Mme. Menant. The new representative for France will be a consular representative, it having been decided by the French government that a member of the consular corps is no longer needed here. Doctor Marques will in future represent the French government.

The two deserters from the Italian cruiser Calabria, who were captured by the police after the warship sailed for the Orient, were taken aboard the vessel last evening and placed in the liner's strong room. They will be turned over to the Calabria's captain at Shanghai.

OTTO WIX ON MOLOKAI.

Otto Wix, the artist, whose water colors of Kauai scenes recently attracted so much attention, leaves today for Molokai for an indefinite stay. He expects to do a considerable amount of work on Molokai before going to New York, where he will exhibit his Hawaiian work.

Mr. Wix states that he hopes to be able to come back to Hawaii and put in his time painting through all the different islands.

Owing to the motor-generating power for the wireless plant aboard the Chiyo Maru burning out a couple of days ago the wireless plant was put entirely out of commission. Electricians from town worked on the motor all day yesterday and repaired the damage.

COLLEGE HILLS LOTS

The foundation of success for many people has been the securing of a home. Persons who have homes in the community appeal to others as the stable members of society and not as globe-trotters or birds of passage—here today and gone tomorrow. If you have little money, you can put yourself in the way of owning a home by purchasing a lot on the installment plan; when the lot is clear, a loan can be secured to enable you to build a house. In a few years land will probably be very much higher than now; this is the time to secure a lot.
